Environmental Studies Diploma

Program revision

- x Graduation requirements
- x Resequencing of courses

Rationale:

We are changing the courses in the Interdisciplinary Environmental Arts (IEA), Environmental Management (EM), and the Environmental Science (ES) options of the Environmental Studies (ES) diploma to reflect new GEOG/EESC course offerings, changes in the offerings of other departments, new department titles and to increase the flexibility of the ES diploma to reflect student interests.

Program description:

The Diploma in Environmental Studies offers an interdisciplinary opportunity to understand the physical principles governing the environment and the social and cultural aspects that influence human behaviour towards the environment. Students will gain a holistic knowledge of the environment through courses from the sciences, social sciences and humanities. The interdisciplinary model will equip students with the critical and analytical skills to think through the many complex factors that influence our understanding of the environment.

The diploma has four options: interdisciplinary environmental arts, environmental management, environmental science and geographic information science. Courses have university transfer credit providing students with the option of further study in either environmental studies or other disciplines. Students can also move directly into the workplace for there is a growing demand for labour in the environmental sector.

Prospective students should ensure that they have the prerequisites for the courses in the option that they wish to pursue.

Block Transfers: please see <http://www.bctransferguide.ca/search/block> and the GEOG/EESC department for details of the block transfer programs.
