Notes:

(1) The “Service Project” can be completed individually or in small teams (2-3). Projects will be posted in Moodle and presented by the community partner early in the semester. See assignment details on Moodle.

(2) The Service Project assignment will consist of a client group final report worth 25%. (Note: an individual reflection of the project will form the final journal assignment).

(3) The course exam will cover the course readings, class discussions and learning activities throughout the semester. This will be an online moodle exam, open book, and will require access to a computer to write the exam in class. See professor and course schedule for additional details and exam format.

(4) The team SE assignment consists of a group class facilitation (the group is selected by your professor) analysing a social entrepreneur of your choice and leading a class discussion

(5) Journal format requires 4 in-depth journal entries throughout the course covering specific materials and activities. See assignment details on Moodle

Late submissions will have a 10% penalty deduction per day, for a maximum of 5 days (assignments will not accepted after this point unless there are exceptional circumstances which are to be discussed directly with your professor).

Required Texts/Resources

- x A series of weekly readings, cases, and learning activities (such as videos, blogs) – see course schedule on the next page

You can access the link to the readings and all other course materials in Moodle. A Talis list has been set up which allows for online access 24/7 at no cost to the student, as long as you are signed into Moodle.

SKILLS ACROSS THE BUSINESS CURRICULUM

The Okanagan School of Business promotes core skills across the curriculum. These skills include reading, written and oral communications, computers, small business, and academic standards of ethics, honesty and integrity.

STUDENT CONDUCT AND ACADEMIC HONESTY

What is the Disruption of Instructional Activities?

At Okanagan College (OC), disruption of instructional activities includes student “conduct which interferes with examinations, lectures, seminars, tutorials, group meetings, other related activities, and with students using the study facilities of OC”, as well as conduct that leads to property damage, assault, discrimination, harassment and fraud. Penalties for disruption of instructional activities include a range of sanctions from a warning and/or a failing grade on an assignment, examination or course to suspension from OC.

What is Cheating?

“Cheating includes but is not limited to dishonest or attempted dishonest conduct during tests or examinations in which the use is made of books, notes, diagrams or other aids excluding those authorized by the examiner. It includes communicating with others for the purpose of obtaining information, copying from the work of others and purposely exposing or conveying information to other students who are taking the test or examination.”

Students must submit independently written work. Students may not write joint or collaborative assignments with other students unless the instructor approves it in advance as a group/team project. Students who share their work with other students are equally involved in cheating.

What is Plagiarism?

Plagiarism is defined as “the presentation of another person’s work or ideas without proper or complete acknowledgement.” It is the serious academic offence of reproducing someone else’s work, including words, ideas and media, without permission for course credit towards a certificate, diploma, degree and/or professional designation. The defining characteristic is that the work is not yours.

“Intentional plagiarism is the deliberate presentation of another’s work or ideas as one’s own.” Intentional plagiarism can be a copy of material from a journal article, a book chapter, data from the Internet, another student, work submitted for credit in another course or from other sources.

“Unintentional plagiarism is the inadvertent presentation of another’s work or ideas without proper acknowledgement because of poor or inadequate practices. Unintentional plagiarism is a failure of scholarship; intentional plagiarism is an act of deceit.”

What are the Students’ Responsibilities to Avoid Plagiarism?

Students have a responsibility to read the OC Plagiarism Policy and Procedures outlined in the OC calendar, which is available in online format www.okanagan.bc.ca. Students must acknowledge the sources of information used on all their assignments. This usually involves putting the authors’ name and the year of publication in parentheses after the sentence in which you used the material, then at the end of your paper, writing out the complete references in a Reference section.

“Students are responsible for learning and applying the proper scholarly practices for acknowledging the work and ideas of others. Students who are unsure of what constitutes plagiarism should refer to the UBC publication “Plagiarism Avoided; Taking Responsibility for your Work”.
